Precautions regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This annual report includes forward-looking statements regarding Takeda's plans, prospects, strategies and performance, etc. These prospects are the result of assessments obtained from information currently available, and since actual performance is subject to various risks and uncertainties, it should be noted that outcomes could differ substantially from those prospects. Factors that could affect future prospects would include, but are not limited to, economic circumstances in Takeda's business domains, competitive pressures, relevant laws and regulations, change in the status of product development, exchange rate risk and so on.

* The contents of this annual report are based on information as of fiscal 2008 (April 1, 2008 to March 31, 2009) with some activities of significant relevance in fiscal 2009 also included.
